

SINGLE-USER SOFTWARE LICENSE TRANSFER AGREEMENT

1. This is a legal agreement between a single-user (an individual, hereinafter referred to as the "User") and Ronald H. Aungier (hereinafter referred to as the "Supplier") to modify existing license agreements for the CompAero and/or TurbAero software systems (hereinafter referred to as the "Software").

2. The purpose of this agreement is to transfer the privileges and responsibilities of the original single-user (referred to as the "Purchaser" in the license agreements and hereinafter in this agreement) to the User. Both parties agree that the Supplier cannot and will not unilaterally revoke the Purchaser's privileges granted in the license agreement(s). It is the sole responsibility of the User to obtain the Purchaser's concurrence to this transfer. The Supplier offers this transfer option as a courtesy to assist in adjusting to organizational changes and similar issues

3. The User certifies that the Purchaser no longer uses the Software and has no objection to this transfer. The User agrees to assume all responsibilities assigned to the Purchaser in the original license agreement(s) and to conform with the terms and conditions therein. The User agrees that he or she will be the only individual using the Software, as required by the license(s).

4. The Supplier grants the User the same right to a non-exclusive and non-transferable license as granted to the Purchaser and under the same terms as the license agreements. Both parties agree that the references to a three-month trial period and to payment in the license agreement(s) are no longer applicable and are not relevant to this transfer agreement.
